

The Future of Deal Archiving. Today.

SS&C Intralinks DealVault™

Dealmaking can be a marathon. Once you’ve crossed the finish line, you leave behind a record of every step. Known as the archive, this permanent record includes all key data and documents reviewed during the diligence and Q&A processes and comes in the form of a download or physical media (e.g., USB, DVD).

This raises a question. With cloud-based offerings replacing physical media in nearly every aspect of our lives, shouldn’t you expect the same level of innovation, security and convenience from your VDR provider?

The future of deal archives is here.

Intralinks DealVault is the innovative cloud-based deal archive storage solution. DealVault provides access to your archive in the cloud post-deal close, making data accessible and easy to leverage at any time. Cloud access also makes it seamless for deal teams to analyze, collaborate on and unarchive entire live VDRs, since users are no longer reliant on a physical piece of media to access their information.
